

30th October 2019: Aker Solutions, Dyce

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

Digital transformation, functional safety and Cyber Security are often discussed in isolation in the process control industry. However, data, analytics and remote access, are now used to improve safety, reduce cost and increase efficiency of assets, this merges these areas and they should collectively be discussed as segments of the digital solution.

This digital transformation of our industry offers opportunity and many benefits, but being more interconnected also increases the risk of a Cyber threat/attack; Do you have the knowledge and expertise to reduce the risks and maximise the opportunities? Join us to share knowledge and best practice.

How safe is your asset?

This conference jointly organised by InstMC and SPE Aberdeen will provide a forum for discussing the issues with subject matter experts, leaving you with ideas to consider and workable solutions.

We are looking for abstracts that could cover:

- Digital transformation across industry including; Oil and Gas, Telecommunications, Energy, Nuclear and Renewables
- Functional safety and utilisation of digital tools to improve safety
- Cyber security including compliance, remote access, threats/attacks, emergency response planning - management and technical, and securing business case with management

If you have experience or case histories to share then we invite you to submit a short 200 word abstract indicating which type of presentation you prefer from the following options:

- Formal 20 minute presentations
Include real field data; case histories demonstrating added value; positive impact; lower production costs; more reserves; enhanced production.
- Informal 5 minute Techbyte presentations
New game changing technology or innovative applications for existing technology.
- Poster presentations in the exhibition area
For more detailed explanation and two-way discussion.

Abstracts will close in June 2019

A summary of up to 200 words including title, presenter, company affiliation and the presentation type* should be sent to aberdeen.events@spe-uk.org. For any queries, call the events team on 01224 646311.

*The Organising Committee reserves the right to decide which session the presentation is best suited to.
