The Society of Petroleum Engineers (SPE) Aberdeen is a not-for-profit organisation which supports and promotes the energy industry.

SPE facilitates and encourages the exchange of technical knowledge concerning the exploration, development and production of oil and gas resources, as well as related technologies.

It provides opportunities for professionals at all levels to enhance their technical and professional competence.

With the income generated from member fees, event bookings and sponsorship, SPE Aberdeen invests in various initiatives and projects designed to inspire individuals and companies at all experience levels.

From primary school children, all the way up to those currently working in the industry, SPE Aberdeen provides valuable resources and opportunities for all levels and areas of interest.

SPE Aberdeen supports Maths in the Pipeline, a maths challenge for primary school children, with volunteers and resources.

Delivered by SPE Aberdeen, Energy4Me is a global SPE energy programme for primary and secondary schools, which has been inspiring the next generation since its launch in 2007. Locally this programme has been successfully tailored for the Scottish Schools Curriculum for Excellence.

NASA in Aberdeen – SPE is working to “Inspire the Next Generation” of young people to focus on science and technology careers – in close collaboration with the Energy Institute, the Society for Underwater Technology, Aberdeen Science Centre, TechFest, the Scottish Space School Federation, schools across Aberdeen city and shire, oil and gas sponsors Apollo, BP, Equinor, CNOOC, Oceaneering and TAQA - and of course NASA.

SPE Aberdeen plays a critical role in the development of Inside Industry, a career guidance website which is targeted specifically towards the energy industry. It is the only tool of its kind focused on providing first class, industry driven career information and advice and has been rolled out across 300 schools in Scotland.

Each year, SPE Aberdeen provide annual bursaries of up to £20,000 to support students studying oil and gas related qualifications, relieving the financial stresses faced by students and allowing them to focus on their studies.

Part of the calendar of events funding these projects is the Offshore Achievement Awards (OAAs).

Now in its 35th year, the OAAs recognise outstanding achievements in the offshore energy industry. Rewarding innovative technologies, growth in companies both large and small, and the significant contributions of individuals within the industry, the OAAs give recognition to the superlative achievements of those who go above and beyond in the energy sector.

The awards provide finalists with a springboard for growth, with many going on to become global heavyweights in the offshore energy industry.

Winning the Emerging Technology category at the Offshore Achievement Awards is huge for Deep Casing Tools. We take pride in our simple innovation philosophy when developing new, ground-breaking technologies, so to be recognised for this by the judges in the 2020 awards means everything to a small company like ours.

The OAA relies on the support of the industry, both in terms of submitting nominations, and in providing the financial support required to run the event.

Sponsorship packages carry a range of benefits for your company:

- Complimentary table/places at the ceremony*
- Opportunity to present an award at the ceremony*
- Company name inscribed on award trophy*
- Invitation to be part of the judging committee
- Promotion of your company on the night, including profile in the commemorative programme given to all guests
- Mention in all press releases, promotional material, the OAA website and social media
- Opportunities for interviews filmed for SPE website and social media

dependent on sponsorship package*

“The OAA’s was a really great event for recognising people doing terrific work across the UKCS. It was also a great opportunity to learn about new technologies - the technologists at our table were busy scribbling away as they watched the various videos from the finalists.”

“It was a fantastic night enjoyed by all. Already making contacts on the back of the event.”

We had a great night, and so did our clients at the table.”

As well as helping to support excellent funding initiatives, sponsoring the OAA provides the perfect platform to show your support for the industry.
